

Construction updates for March 28, 2023

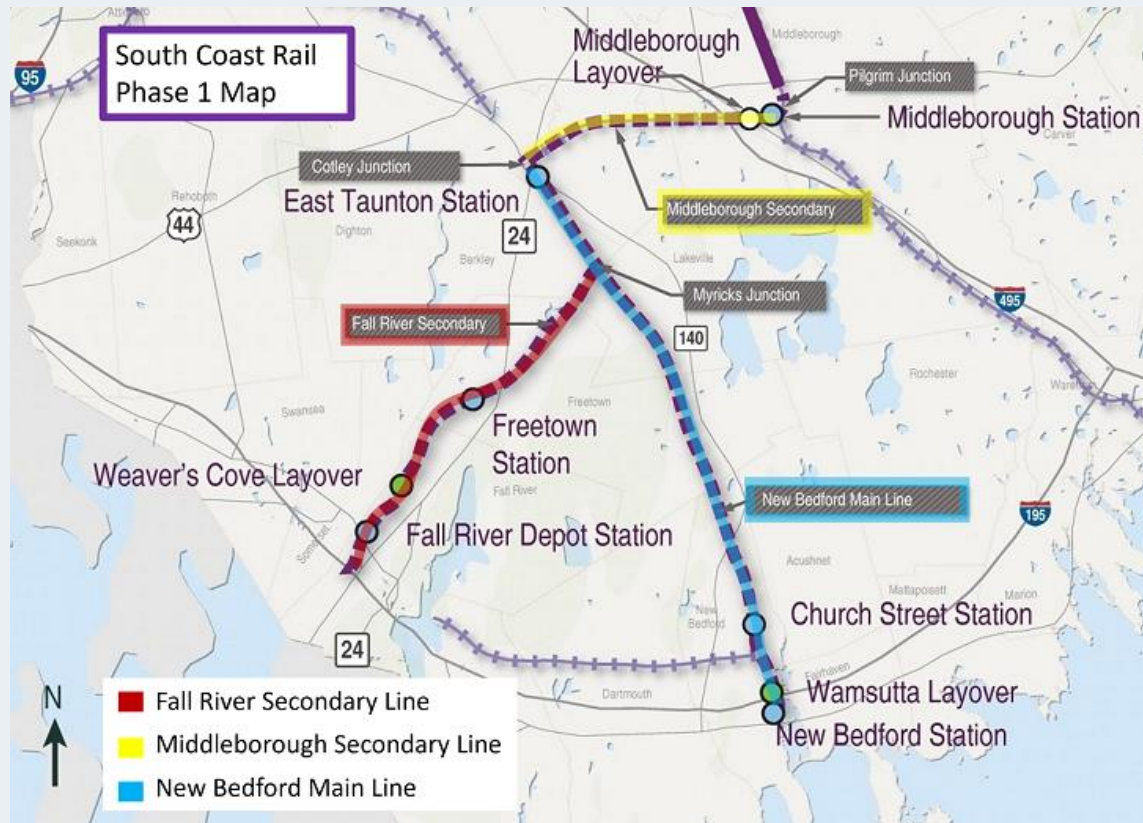

The schedule for this infrastructure project is weather dependent and subject to change without notice.

South Coast Rail and Mass Coastal Railroad Evening Freight Operations

The South Coast Rail (SCR) team, along with freight operator Mass Coastal Railroad (MCRR), are restarting the evening freight operations program that has been implemented over the past two years of the project to separate SCR construction activities from the MCRR freight operations on the Fall River Secondary and New Bedford Main Line (see SCR project map for location of railroad lines below).

Beginning Monday, April 3 through the 2023 construction season, MCRR will move daily freight operations to evenings. During this period, abutters to these railroad lines from Taunton to Fall River and New Bedford can anticipate trains during weekday evenings between 5:00 PM and 12:00 AM.

This will not change the current daily operations on the Middleborough Secondary Line. Trains will continue to run during the daytime, and construction activities will carry on in coordination with freight train movements along that line.
